

RESULTS OF THE IRIDOLOGIC EXAMINATION

June 02, 2005 (12:32)

Name : ACK
Age : 53
Sex : Female

D

S

Lumbar discogenic osteoarthrosis.
Signs of functional overload of the liver.
Difficult bile secretion.
Predisposition to coronary vessels spasms.
Local changes of reproductive sphere.

Blood circulation in systemic circuit is unstable. Tendency to increase of general peripheral resistance.
Insularity, internal circumspection, metabolic injuries of small joints and spinal column, gout are typical. Hypodynamia can result in weakness of abdominal wall, atonic colitis, diseases of small pelvis organs, hemorrhoids.

Protection to phychoemotional irritation is low. Increased psychological vulnerability.

Endogenic or exogenic intoxication with decompensation elements.

Motor-secretory intestinal disfunction.

Increased secretory function of stomach mucosa, accelerated motility.

Right section of heart overload.

Mitral valve prolapse?

Hypertension syndrome, increased intracranial pressure.

Genetically specified inclination to duodenal ulcer disease.

Decreased brain oxygenation probably caused by violation of large intestine function.

Decreased blood circulation of left hemisphere.

Diffuse changes in heart.